

NEWARK GIRL A VICTIM.

Er-Major's Daughter One of Dr. Witzhoff's Wives, Says Lawyer.

According to Benjamin Franklin, attorney for Miss Dora Dorf, one of the young women who say they were married to Dr. George A. Witzhoff, now under two indictments for bigamy, one of the alleged bigamy victims is the daughter of former Mayor of Newark. He refused, however, to divulge the name of the young woman.

Besides the accumulated evidence that the fugitive married several young women, robbed them and disappeared, comes the added charge that he used drugs to accomplish his purpose. This latest evidence is in the form of a letter written by Elita Standall Miller, whom Witzhoff is said to have married in Boston under the latter name. It was written to Mrs. Ernest Tinney, who was Miss Parkhill, of Brooklyn, until she married the suave doctor, who on this occasion used the alias of Dr. Tinney. This letter is now in possession of Mrs. Tinney's attorney, John H. Rogan, an advocate.

My dear Mrs. Tinney: I have just read your letter and I am glad to hear that you are well. I have heard from you several times and I believe my parents and I are all well. I have been thinking of you very much and I hope you are all the same. I have been thinking of you very much and I hope you are all the same. I have been thinking of you very much and I hope you are all the same.

Witzhoff is believed to have employed the same methods with several other young women who were caught in his net. They were much like those of Johann Hoeh, the Chicago bigamist, who is now under sentence of death on the charge of murdering one of his wives. It was a peculiar coincidence that brought the two bigamists together. They occupy adjoining offices in the city of Newark. Witzhoff is said to have been known as Dr. Weston, consulted Mr. Franklin, regarding a divorce. Witzhoff is said to have been known as Dr. Weston, consulted Mr. Franklin, regarding a divorce.

Greenleaf says he understands that Youcker had gone under the name of Weston. On account of the recent revelations concerning Dr. Weston, Justices Burr in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, took an unusual interest in a suit for annulment of marriage which came up before him yesterday. The case was the suit of Sophie Youcker for an annulment of her marriage to Youcker, which took place in Jersey City on September 12, 1892. The case was adjourned.

BABY IS A CURIOSITY.

Miss Garrison the First One in Five Years in Marksboro.

Marksboro, Aug. 25 (Special).—For the first time in five years a baby was made to-day on a nursing table. So long has it been since a baby's squalls awoke the quiet residents of Marksboro that the first yells of the new baby went unrecogized and provoked only remarks of "that cat," as the neighbors turned over and tried to catch another nap.

Investigation showed that the strange noises had been made by Miss Garrison, the young and vigorous daughter of Mrs. Milton Garrison, of Trenton, who has been staying here at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Shotwell. Miss Garrison is the first baby some citizens of the town have ever seen.

PATROLMAN BEAT WIFE.

Takes Justice at His Word and Resigns from Ansonia's Force.

Derby, Conn., Aug. 25.—With thirteen wife beaters to his arrest account, John A. Coffey, an Ansonia patrolman, was sent to jail to-day for a month for beating his wife. Coffey's wife and daughter testified that because Mrs. Coffey could not find his hat, which he had mislaid, the patrolman struck his wife in the face several times. Justice Bryant criticized Coffey severely, and said he regretted he could not dismiss him from the police force. Coffey at once removed his badge and announced his resignation. The ex-patrolman went to jail handcuffed to a drunkard whom he had arrested. Coffey had been a policeman many years and was regarded as a good officer.

GUESTS SEE ASHES PLACED IN URN.

Open Air Ceremony at Disposal of Remains of Mother-in-Law.

New Brunswick, Aug. 25 (Special).—In the presence of guests gathered on the lawn of his home at Pompton, Dr. George D. Herron to-day placed the ashes of his mother-in-law, who died in Italy, in an urn. Dr. Herron did this because of a promise made several years ago to her. She was Mrs. E. D. Rand, of Burlington, Iowa. The lawn was decorated with flowers and other plants, giving it the effect of an Italian garden. Several scores of guests were present. The religious part of the ceremony was conducted by Rev. W. H. Wise, formerly pastor of the University Church at Greenwich, and Dr. Herron was followed by an address by Dr. Herron.

HERMIT HIT BY LIGHTNING.

Regains Consciousness When Flames of Burning House Blister His Arm.

Bridgeport, Aug. 25 (Special).—Unconscious from a lightning bolt of lightning that was smothered the roof of his house, setting it on fire, and threw him headlong down a flight of stairs, James Aspinwall, a hermit living beside the Housatonic River, ten miles north of this city, lay on the hall floor of his home last night until he was revived. His name is Aspinwall, and he is a hermit. He escaped from his home just before the roof fell. Aspinwall is a weaver, forty years old, who lives in a small hut on the hillside. He has been a hermit for many years. He was rescued by his neighbors. He is now recovering from his injuries. He is now recovering from his injuries.

HORSE REFUSED TO LEAVE STAGE.

Butcher Gored by Angry Bull.

Derby, Conn., Aug. 25 (Special).—Abraham Blaud, a butcher, is crippled for life, if not fatally injured, from a blow on the forehead by a bull. The bull, named "Colonel," yesterday, Blaud attempted to lead the bull to the slaughter house, when it attacked him, and, impaling him on its horns, plowed him against the side of the barn. He was rescued by his neighbors. The bull's horns penetrated Blaud's side and groin.

HORACE B. FRY LEAVES HOSPITAL.

Horace B. Fry, of No. 1 East 39th-st., left the Presbyterian Hospital Thursday, where he has been for several months suffering from a serious trouble. His return to the hospital greatly improved in health. Mr. Fry is a member of the Union League Club.

OBITUARY.

EPHRAIM A. JACOB.

Ephraim A. Jacob, former justice of the Court of Special Sessions, who died at his residence, No. 2 West 87th-st., on Thursday, was born in Philadelphia, Pa., on August 1, 1834. He was educated in the College of the City of New York in 1854, and studied law at the New York Law School. He was made counsel for the Central National Bank and other institutions. He was appointed one of the Justices of the Court of Special Sessions in 1886. He died at the age of 71. His funeral will take place to-day from his late home.

WILLIAM E. SEELYE.

Lakeville, Conn., Aug. 25.—William E. Seelye, of Bridgeport, one of the best known men in the State, died at his summer home this afternoon after an illness of only an hour, from paralysis. He had been prominent in political and business life for a number of years, and was president of the First National Bank of Bridgeport at the time of his death. Mr. Seelye was a close friend of President McKinley. He was a member of the United States. He declined it for personal reasons. He was 64 years old, and leaves a widow and five sons.

MRS. WILLIAM REDMUND.

Mrs. William Redmund, better known as Mrs. Thomas Barry, the actress, died on Thursday at Piermont, N. Y. Mrs. Redmund was well known in the Murray Hill Theatre, where she appeared several years ago in the older comedies. Her husband was at the time the manager of the Murray Hill and appeared with her in many of her plays. She was best known in Boston, where she appeared many times.

WILLIAM E. SEELYE.

Bridgeport, Aug. 25.—William E. Seelye, one of the foremost financiers of New-England and ex-Congressman from Connecticut, died suddenly this evening at his summer home in Lakeville, Conn. He had eaten a hearty dinner and was sitting on the veranda of his home when he was stricken with apoplexy. The deceased was a Republican. Presidential elector on two occasions and was mentioned as the next Republican candidate for Governor. He was president of the First National Bank of Bridgeport and a director in many manufacturing concerns. He was a member of several New-York societies. A widow and several adult children survive him.

COLONEL PATRICK HENRY MURPHY.

Colonel Patrick Henry Murphy, a veteran of the Civil War, died on Thursday at his home, No. 24 West 54th-st. Colonel Murphy was a captain in the 8th Vermont Volunteers during the Civil War, and at the close of the war was promoted to colonel. He was a member of the American Legion. He was also president of the American Legion in New York.

In 1882 he married Miss Carrie Smith, a sister of the late Mrs. Murphy. At one time he was president of the Republican Club. Mrs. Murphy died in 1891. The funeral will be conducted with full military honors by Lafayette Post, and it will be buried at Rondout Centre.

HUGH M. THOMAS.

Hugh M. Thomas, one of the largest property owners in Long Island City, died on Thursday night at his summer home at Rockville Centre, Long Island. Mr. Thomas was stricken with paralysis on Wednesday while getting ready to take his daughter for a drive to Long Beach. He was seventy years old. For forty years he was engaged in the building business in Greenpoint and Long Island City. He was vice-president of the Long Island City Savings Bank and was interested in many other business enterprises. He was a thirty-second degree Mason. He was a Republican and always took an interest in public affairs, but never held public office. His wife and their only child, Mrs. William H. Thomas, survive him.

SAYS SON STOLE WEDDING RING.

Mother in Court Refuses to Withdraw Burglary Charge.

Alleging that her son had been driven to felony by love for strong drink, Mrs. Rebecca Murray, in the Flushing police court, declined yesterday to withdraw a charge of burglary she had made against him. She said it would be a mistake to do so, and that she was acting kindly in prosecuting him. George Murray, the accused young man, is twenty-one years of age, and has been popular in Flushing. He is a graduate from the College of the City of New York, and his father is connected with a prominent Manhattan firm. Mrs. Murray says her son fell from good company to the companionship of those who drank, and that an effort to shut off his drinking habits by allowing him no money caused him to break into her home and steal from her among other articles of jewelry her wedding ring. She also accuses him of having stolen a diamond and pearl set ring and a gold watch, in all valued at $100. The warrant for the young man's arrest was issued some days ago, and although he was known to be still in Flushing, the police could not find him. He was arrested at his home in Flushing, and in court he offered to return the stolen articles, and promised to reform. He was committed.

BURGLARS LOOT POSTOFFICE.

Building at Three Bridges Wrecked by Explosion of Nitroglycerine.

Three Bridges, N. J., Aug. 25.—Burglars blew open the safe in the postoffice early this morning. Enough nitroglycerine was used to wreck a dozen safes. About 2 o'clock many of the neighbors were awakened by the explosion, but no one made any investigation. Everything in the room was knocked askew, and a large piece of the safe was blown through the building. A large hole was blown through the ceiling, and the flooring was ripped up beneath the safe. All the window panes were blown out. The thieves obtained in cash and bonds $10 and $100 in postage stamps.

PEACH CROP ESCAPED DAMAGE.

Connecticut Tobacco Growers Estimate Losses by Storm at $50,000.

New-Haven, Aug. 25.—In only one section of the tobacco raising district of Connecticut did the electrical storm of last night do heavy damage. The peach crop, which is about to be harvested, entirely escaped injury. The storm was very severe between Hartford and New-Haven. In Windsor, a few miles north of Hartford, hail cut down tobacco plants so that to-day the loss to growers is placed at $50,000. In South Glastonbury, a few miles south-east of Hartford, only a light rain fell at that time on the immense peach orchard of J. H. Hale. The peach crop in this State will be a record breaker, and had this storm swept broadly across the State the loss to peach growers, tobacco raisers and market gardeners would have been enormous.

MANDAMUS FOR DEPOSED CAPTAIN.

Police Captain Richard T. Hickman has obtained from Justice Burr, in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, an alternative writ of mandamus ordering Commissioner McAdoo to show cause why the captain should not be reinstated and assigned to his former precinct in Jamaica. The order is returnable on September 6. On a certificate of two of the board of police surgeons that he was incapacitated for duty, Captain Hickman was retired in May. He declares that three of the surgeons of the department examined him, but denies that he was examined by either of the surgeons who signed the certificate. Captain Hickman is a veteran of the civil war. Before being assigned to Jamaica he was in charge of the precinct at Whitestone.

WEDDED AT MIDNIGHT.

Stamford, Conn., Aug. 25.—Charles J. Wilson, of Vanderbill-ave., Brooklyn, and Miss Florence Thornton, of New-York, were married here at midnight by Justice Knapp. The couple left home yesterday on a pleasure trip. When they reached Stamford by trolley they had made up their minds to get married. Mr. Wilson asked the police to help him. Special Officer Finley volunteered to get a clergyman. None were at liberty, and finally Justice Knapp was found. Justice Knapp at the funeral of a relative. The town clerk had to be found to issue the license. He was married to Justice Knapp married the couple in the Town Clerk's office.

FEARED RECORDER GOFF.

Boy Was Warned Not to Plead, He Said—Probationary Officers Ousted.

Recorder Goff, sitting in the Court of General Sessions, strongly condemned certain practices of the Tombs Prison yesterday. He sent for Warden Hanley, acting warden, and ordered that hereafter to probationary officers or missionaries be allowed under any circumstances to visit prisoners in the Tombs, a meeting that they retard justice and do no good. A meeting of the judges of the Court of General Sessions will be held on Monday to do away with the practices condemned.

The publicity came when Edward Ammon, a youth of seventeen, was arraigned supposedly to plead guilty to a charge of attempt at grand larceny. He was accused of robbing Mrs. Elizabeth Pierson, of No. 680 East 145th-st., of jewelry valued at $70. When asked to plead guilty the boy remained silent, apparently confused. Recorder Goff asked Carl Fischer-Hansen, a lawyer, to see what was the matter. Mr. Fischer-Hansen shortly replied: "Your honor, the defendant says he's guilty, but he's afraid to plead, as he is afraid you will 'soak him.'"

"What's that?" asked the Recorder in surprise. Mr. Fischer-Hansen repeated the boy's statement. "Who told you I was severe?" asked the Recorder of the boy. The boy then told the court that yesterday while in the Tombs a probationary officer had called on him. This officer, he said, had told him that the Recorder was very severe with all defendants convicted, and that if the boy would plead not guilty the case would go over and could be placed before another judge. Then the probationary officer said, the Recorder with the new judge he would use his influence with the new judge to have the case ended by suspended sentence. "Who was this man?" asked the court.

"He gave me a card," the boy said, and handed up a card of Joseph Gray, a probationary officer well known in the Criminal Courts Building. This man was sent for, but was not about the building. The boy then pleaded guilty and was sent to Elmira Reformatory.

CHILDREN WANDER FAR.

Hardly Out of Dresses, They Start to Seek Fortune.

Arlington, Aug. 25 (Special).—Infatuated with the spirit of make believe and mutually agreed that they would go out into the great world and make their fortunes, Charles Little, seven years old, and Edward Haskell, six years old, left their parents' home in Kingsland at 7 o'clock yesterday morning to walk to Newark, over the Erie roads away. They took with them nearly all their toys, chiefly of a warlike nature, such as toy pistols and wooden swords. They dragged behind them the remnants of a badly broken toy automobile. Bravely they trudged along, telling each other of the ice cream and candy they would revel in when they had made their fortunes. Just how they were going to take a fall out of the frenzied finance of nowadays they did not pause to consider.

The little wanderers were found, footsore and discouraged, sitting by the roadside, near Middland-ave. Charles Little, the elder lad, was trying to soothe his companion, Edward Haskell, whose clothes were soaked and dissolved into a food of tears. The swords and pistols lay on the grass, discarded. The broken toy automobile was found in a ditch close by. Judge Byron, the grandfather of the little boy, the largest of them, went to Kenary and claimed the children. He took them back last night in his motor. Both were in a deep slumber when they reached home.

BURNED SHIP AT PIER.

Wreck of Marlborough Hill Expected to Float When Pumped Out.

The wrecking tug William Chapman, of the Merritt-Chapman Wrecking Company, yesterday started to the side of the Marlborough Hill, which was struck by lightning and burned off Stapleton, Staten Island, on Thursday night, and towed her to the pier of the wrecking company, at Clifton, Staten Island. It required several hours to get the Marlborough Hill to the pier, so full of water she was. She is badly burned at the stern. As she now lies five feet in the mud, she is drawing twenty feet of water. The wrecking company say they think they will be able to float her as soon as the water is pumped out of her and her cargo taken out. This is being done this afternoon. As soon as the vessel was taken to Clifton the crew of the wrecking tug went back on her again and aided the wrecking company's men in taking out the cargo.

FIRE EXCHANGE MAY REGULATE RATES.

Trenton, N. J., Aug. 25.—Vice Chancellor Stevenson has by a decision refusing the application of the Newark Fire Exchange for an injunction to restrain the Newark Fire Exchange from maintaining and regulating the insurance rates in that city under an agreement entered into between several insurance companies. The court holds that the agreement is without justification under the common law, and that it is not a statute in New Jersey to authorize such action.

DOG ATTACKS OWNER'S SON.

Freehold, Aug. 25.—A dog belonging to John Egan, of West Main-st., attacked his son Stephen, ten years old, last night. It would have killed the boy had not David Hampton, a neighbor, beaten the dog off with a club. The boy was terribly bitten on the head, arms, and both sides of the body. Hampton had cut down tobacco plants so that to-day the loss to growers is placed at $50,000. In South Glastonbury, a few miles south-east of Hartford, only a light rain fell at that time on the immense peach orchard of J. H. Hale. The peach crop in this State will be a record breaker, and had this storm swept broadly across the State the loss to peach growers, tobacco raisers and market gardeners would have been enormous.

TO DISSOLVE FERRY COMPANY.

The stockholders of the Metropolitan Ferry Company have passed a resolution for dissolution of the corporation. The Long Island Railroad Company has since 1892 controlled the company and operated its ferry line. All the bonds of the Metropolitan company were paid off about a year ago. The Long Island Railroad Company holds $1,484,000 Long Island Railroad Ferry first gold 4 per cent bonds, which are secured on the property formerly belonging to the Metropolitan Ferry Company.

PETITIONS IN BANKRUPTCY.

The following petitions in bankruptcy were filed to-day with the Clerk of the United States District Court: David and Jacob H. Janoff, trading as D. Janoff & Co., No. 125 West 42nd-st., New York, for $100,000; and Janoff & Co., No. 125 West 42nd-st., New York, for $100,000. It is said that the alleged bankrupts admit to having been in the wholesale tobacco business.

M. J. SAVAGE AT GENEVA COUNCIL.

Says "The Congregationalist and Christian World": Next week, August 28 to 30, the third congress of the International Council of Unitarians and other liberal religious thinkers is to be held at Geneva, Switzerland. The latter will be preached by the Rev. Dr. J. H. Wilson, of New York. The couple left home yesterday on a pleasure trip. When they reached Stamford by trolley they had made up their minds to get married. Mr. Wilson asked the police to help him. Special Officer Finley volunteered to get a clergyman.
